

Directors and Officers Excess Side A DIC PROtectSM

Professional Liability Insurance
as a Last Line of Defense
for Their Directors

ARGO PRO

Member Argo Group

A robust D & O policy
can help you in a variety of scenarios.
Here's how:

ENTERPRISE

- The underlying insurer wrongfully fails to indemnify
- The underlying insurer fails to advance defense costs for directors and officers in 60 days
- The underlying insurance company is financially unable to pay
- The underlying insurer threatens to rescind
- The underlying insurance company is subject to bankruptcy stay

EMPLOYER

- Directors and officers are sued for allegedly stealing trade secrets
- A new owner of a business files a lawsuit claiming she was given false information about the company's potential for profitability
- Directors and officers have to comply with a government-mandated investigation
- A fired female employee sues the directors and officers, accusing them of gender discrimination

CUSTOMER

- A customer sues the company directors, claiming they were unable to meet the terms of a contract
- Lawsuit filed by a customer alleges fraudulent or dishonest acts were committed by the company's directors and officers
- A consumer advocacy group representing customers files a lawsuit alleging breach of fair trade

SHAREHOLDER

- A shareholder sues directors and officers, saying they failed to stop an employee from embezzling
- A shareholder sues directors and officers for allegedly improperly managing the company's finances

Learn more:

www.argolimited.com/argo-pro/product/directors-and-officers-excess-side-a-dic-protect/